MANAGEMENT

Composer Assistant

ATC Management is a highly respected artist and composer management company with offices in the UK, America and Europe. Its composer division represents a diverse roster of major award winning innovative composers and musicians working across film, TV and the Arts. It has recently formed a partnership with sector-leading British music technology company Spitfire Audio, founded by composers Christian Henson and Paul Thomson. Spitfire Audio produces high quality sample libraries and virtual instruments that feature in most AAA scores for films, games and TV. This partnership will see us share our respective resources and expertise so that we may amplify and accelerate the opportunities for artists in today's evolving scoring landscape.

This is an exciting opportunity for a highly organised, musical and studio literate individual to assist a core team of managers who represent a roster of musical composers. Working from the London offices of ATC Management and Spitfire Audio.
